

Hightower

Designed by San Francisco-based, Most Modest, the Gimbal Lounge Rocker was built with just enough movement to expel energy, allowing for a longer duration of sit. A cure for the common fidgeter, the subtle movement boosts focus, memory and attention. The Low Lounge Rocker features the comfort of down-filled pillows with the support of a foam insert that hugs the inside of the frame, creates a layer of softness and cradles the body in all the right places.
